Join colleagues and friends for the traditional AUGS Karaoke Challenge at PURE Nightclub or simply light up the night in cosmopolitan Las Vegas!

In addition to our educational programs and networking opportunities, AUGS is offering pre-conference postgraduate courses with a hands-on approach, demonstrating lessons with pig bladders, pelvic trainers, and live porcine models to explore the advantages of various port placements, energy technologies, and suturing strategies.

Take advantage of these invaluable learning experiences while you enjoy the live entertainment and lights of the Las Vegas strip.

The Robin Haff Research Award is supported by a grant from American Medical Systems.

Earlier this year, the urogynecology community lost a dedicated and passionate research nurse, Robin Haff, from the practice of Vince Lucente and Miles Murphy.

To recognize not only Robin’s contributions, but the contributions of all clinical research nurses and research coordinators in the community, AUGS has created the Robin Haff Research Award, presented annually to an individual in recognition of outstanding and sustained contributions to female pelvic floor disorders research.

This award recognizes the important role clinical research nurses and research coordinators play in the clinical research process. Without dedicated and committed research staff, high quality research would not be possible.

Please join us on Thursday, October 17 at 4:15 p.m. in the Augustus I-IV room where the first award will be given.

MANAGEMENT OF INCONTINENCE AND PROLAPSE FOR THE ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONAL: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY MODEL
8:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m., Palace III
Course Director: Leah Moynihan, RNC, MSN
Course Faculty: Ingrid Harm-Ernandes, PT, WCS, BCB-PMD, Amie Kawasaki, MD, Colleen Mellen, MS, APRN, Adam Steinberg, DO, and Leslie Wooldridge, NP

*This activity is certified by FSBPT and accordingly accepted by the physical therapy regulatory boards/agencies in certain U.S. jurisdictions.

This course will cover a broad range of practical clinical topics for nurse practitioners, physical therapists, physician assistants, occupational therapists, and nurses in urogynecology. It is critical for practitioners treating the pelvic floor to understand the complicated pelvic region and the various interventions that can be used to effectively treat pelvic dysfunction. This course is designed to provide the learner with a better understanding of how the pelvic floor can be addressed with a variety of treatment methods. A comprehensive overview of up-to-date treatments will allow for improved interdisciplinary communication, improved understanding of the impact various treatments have on one another, as well as better outcomes for patients. Topics will include information regarding surgical, medical, nurse practitioner and physical therapy treatment methods. Topics covered include stress and urge incontinence as well as pelvic organ prolapse.

This activity is certified by FSBPT and accordingly accepted by the physical therapy regulatory boards/agencies in certain U.S. jurisdictions. 6 contact hours included.

This continuing nursing education activity was approved by American Nephrology Nurses’ Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

7.16 contact hours and 1.25 Pharmacology contact hours.

UROGYNECOLOGICAL CONDITIONS CAUSING SEXUAL DYSFUNCTION – DIAGNOSIS AND MANAGEMENT
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Palace II
Course Director: Kristene Whitmore, MD
Course Faculty: Charu Dhingra, MD and Susan Kellogg-Spadt, PhD, CRNP

This course will feature an interdisciplinary panel including a urologist, urogynecologist, specialist in vulvar diseases, and a sex therapist to discuss diagnosis and management of urogynecological conditions causing sexual dysfunction.

CONVENTIONAL AND ROBOTIC-ASSISTED LAPAROSCOPY FOR THE CONTEMPORARY UROGYNECOLOGIST*
Didactic: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Palace I
Wet-Lab: 1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Course Director: K. Warren Volker, MD, PhD, MS, FACOG
Course Faculty: Andrew Brill, MD, Catherine Matthews, MD, FACOG, and Steven McCarus, MD, FACOG

This course will help surgeons to advance their surgical horizon, knowledge, and skills in conventional and robotic-assisted laparoscopy. This interactive surgical course is designed to demonstrate the path and knowledge required to become a master surgeon. Experienced faculty will utilize videos, evidence-based medicine, and clinical expertise to provide step-by-step strategies which can be incorporated into current practice in order to safely and successfully complete more advanced surgery. New surgical technologies will be presented that assist in sacrocolpopexy, treating endometriosis, pelvic adhesions, and a variety of other diseases of the pelvis.

During the afternoon wet lab, attendees will gain hands-on experience working in a live porcine model. Emphasis is placed on unique laparoscopic port placement (mini-lap, single port, and multiple port). Multiple energies will be utilized, including bipolar, ultrasonic, and new plasma technology. Sutting devices and techniques will allow for the advancing pelvic surgeon to perform more complicated surgeries. Multiple expert preceptors will be by your side during the course.

Supported by: Bovie Medical, Caldera Medical, Ethicon Endosurgery, Intuitive Surgical, KARL STORZ Endoscopy-America, Inc., Lexion Medical, LSI Solutions

* Morning and afternoon sessions are two separate fees, but designed to be attended one after the other. Attendance for didactic is unlimited. Wet-lab is open to the first 60 registrants and will be held off-site. All attendees for the wet-lab must have attended the morning didactic course. Transportation will be provided.

SURGICAL DEVICE INNOVATION – FROM PROCESS TO PATENTS
1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m., Palace I
Course Director: Eric Sokol, MD, FACS, FACOG
Course Faculty: Stuart Hart, MD, FACS, FACOG, Donald Min, Esq, and Miles Rosen

This course provides a forum for attendees to learn basic knowledge needed to translate an innovative idea into a marketable product. The program will take the participants through the experiences of a physician-inventor who has worked with an academic institution to develop a product; through the process of needs assessment, device iteration, and the development of a cogent business plan with a bioengineer who is the founder of a medical device startup; and finally through the legal aspects of patents and contracts with a patent attorney. At the end of the forum, there will be time for questions and discussion.

INCORPORATING PLASTIC SURGERY CONCEPTS AND TECHNIQUES INTO FEMALE PELVIC RECONSTRUCTIVE SURGERY
1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m., Palace I
Course Director: Amy Park, MD
Course Faculty: Cheryl Iglesia, MD, FACOG, Ja-Hong Kim, MD, and Charles Rardin, MD

This course will review plastic surgery concepts such as wound healing and infection and scar minimization techniques. It will also review reconstructive surgery techniques such as Martius flaps, Z-plasty, Singapore, and gluteal flaps. Vaginal and laparoscopic approaches will be reviewed.

Introducing Butterfly.™
A new kind of discreet protection for Accidental Bowel Leakage (ABL).

New Butterfly Body Liners are a totally new product for light to moderate ABL. Butterfly fits comfortably and discreetly in the buttocks, providing secure protection from accidental bowel leakage (ABL). Consumer studies show that women who use Butterfly feel more confident and protected throughout their day – in fact 90% of users² report that Butterfly protects them from ABL. That’s because with its absorbent core, odor shield and stay-fast wings, Butterfly adheres securely and invisibly in the buttocks, giving women a new kind of protection they can count on.

ABL is a surprisingly common problem -- affecting 1 in 5 women over the age of 40. For 95% of these women¹, leakage is mild to moderate. And women report that even mild leakage can be bothersome.

“...It’s hard to believe such a little thing could make such a big difference. Talk about a Butterfly effect.”

This forum is a joint initiative of AUGS and SUFU as the organizations work together to build closer ties in the training of fellows and the dissemination of information on fellowship training. The goal of the program is to provide an opportunity for fellows to come together for education, the exchange of ideas, and to present their research in a safe environment. Registration for the event is complimentary; however, fellows will be required to submit an abstract in order to participate in the research portion of the meeting.

WOMEN’S LEADERSHIP FORUM

7:00 p.m. – 8:30 p.m.

JACK ROBERTSON LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

J. Thomas Benson, MD

AUGS’ most prestigious award is presented periodically to an individual who has had a lifetime of outstanding achievements in the field of Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery and has served as a role model through service, basic or clinical research, and teaching.

The AUGS Board of Directors wishes to honor this year’s recipient, J. Thomas Benson, MD. Dr. Benson was one of the pioneers in the field of urogynecology and was the first to have an ABOG approved FPMRS Fellowship program. His research in the area of mechanisms of nerve injury and neurophysiology of the pelvic floor is considered landmark. Dr. Benson passed away in 2008 following a battle with pancreatic cancer. The award will be accepted on his behalf by Douglass Hale, MD.

Columbia, MD 21046
www.acell.com

ACell’s patented ECM devices address important clinical needs, while providing safe, effective, economical and therapeutic outcomes to the wound care and surgical communities. These devices, trademarked as MatriStem®, are comprised of naturally-occurring porcine urinary bladder matrix (UBM). The products are non-crosslinked, completely resorbable, acellular, and feature naturally-occurring collagens and an epithelial basement membrane surface that is not available in synthetic materials. MatriStem completely incorporates into the surrounding tissue during the healing process and leaves new tissue where scar tissue formation is normally expected. The result is constructively remodeled, site-specific tissue for a variety of medical procedures.

Products Include: MatriStem® Surgical Matrix (RS, PSM, PSMX, & PSMT), MatriStem Pelvic Floor Matrix, MatriStem Wound Matrix, MatriStem Burn Matrix, and MatriStem MicroMatrix®.
